

Bitcoin Seduction Movie Announced

CommPRO Editorial Staff

Bitcoin Seduction – The Ultimate Financial Fantasy’ is a soon-to-be-launched project from the stables of BS Production & Crypto Film Fund as the film takes the audience on an amazing ride detailing hitherto unknown facts about Bitcoin (BTC) and the digital currency space. The docudrama features personal interviews, scripted dramatization, and animation, telling the story of how a computer-generated currency has been able to disrupt the global financial system.

Bitcoin Seduction is a docudrama that tells the story of how a computer-generated intangible coin, conceived by a mysterious creator, captivated the world and laid the foundation for what many have now come to see as the genesis of a future egalitarian global financial system.

The film features legendary anecdotes of the fortunes lost and gained, the world-changing innovation that has materialized, and the ensuing impact on civilization as new blocks get added to the societal chain.

Bitcoin, the duodecennial digital currency, has become a bi-directional seductress like few before, capturing hearts, minds, and wallets, with some proffering a second economic coming, while others experiencing a déjà vu of tulip crazes. Regardless, bitcoin has become an ever-present figment within popular and financial vernacular.

Bitcoin remains a major part of the digital currency space, regarded by many as the mother of all cryptocurrencies. Despite the increasing popularity and acceptance of BTC, its origins and how it works remains a mystery to millions of people worldwide.

Source: Blockchain Wire