Blockchain Wire (www.blockchainwire.io), the first press release distribution service focused exclusively on blockchain, cryptocurrency, distributed ledger, token offerings and digital assets news, today announced it has been named the official wire service for the Washington Elite AI Blockchain Summit (<https://washingtoneelite.com/>) to be held June 21-22, 2019 in Washington D.C.

As the official wire service for Washington Elite AI Blockchain Summit, Blockchain Wire will offer a special discount rate to sponsors and attendees for any news announcements issued during summit show hours from June 21-22. Blockchain Wire's global reach includes broadcast and online media outlets, social media sites, industry trade publications, leading blogs, and influencers.

The Washington Elite AI Blockchain Summit will showcase some of the biggest names and most exciting innovations in blockchain, AI and Identity. More than 30 exhibitors will represent everything from investment opportunities to identity, OTC, financial services, exchanges, and blockchain classes will be taught by industry experts and government regulators for those interested in learning how to mine Bitcoin, send crypto over SMS/text, stake coins, run nodes and the enterprise/government uses of this transformative technology.

“Blockchain Wire aims to serve companies working across the blockchain economy by providing unmatched access to relevant media outlets, influencers and trade publications around the globe,” said Michael Shuler, President of Blockchain Wire. “We are excited to spread the message of the premier companies at the Washington Elite AI Blockchain Summit.”

“Blockchain Wire is a clear leader in the news distribution space. We recognize that leadership and are grateful for their support,” said Bruce Porter, Jr. CEO, GlobalBoost/Washington Elite
