We're pleased to share this invitation from Ragan Communications...

Ragan would like to invite you to celebrate Communications Week with them during an in-person reception on Tuesday, November 16th at 5:30p.m. in New York City. Communications Week is designed to celebrate communicators like you, and while the educational events the week of Nov. 15 are virtual this year, they are excited to announce this “Pop-Up” reception, giving you the chance to join colleagues in person!

The two-hour event will include networking, a panel discussion on 2022 predictions and a communications technology showcase. The reception is hosted by Ragan and MWW and will take place at MWW's headquarters building in Manhattan's Herald Square. This is a free event by invitation only and Ragan is limiting the number of guests to comply with the NYC Covid safety standards, including that all guests show proof of vaccination.

Please RSVP HERE by November 5th to attend. If you do not register by this date, they may not be able to accommodate you since space is limited.

The reception will include:

- Great food and drinks
- Networking with other communicators
- Compelling panel discussion: Predictions 2022
- Sponsor showcase

We hope you are able to join us for this invitation-only reception during Communications Week on November 16 in NYC, hosted by Ragan and MWW and sponsored by an amazing group of companies. For more details and to RSVP, go HERE. As a reminder, all attendees must bring proof of vaccination to the event.

We look forward to seeing you (in-person)! If you have any questions or need help with your complimentary registration, please contact Jen Mazurek at Ragan Communications.

See you soon!
