

CommPRO Wants Your Point of View

CommPro.biz is a B2B digital publisher, professional development and event production firm serving corporate communications professionals, including the advertising, investor relations, marketing, public relations and social media sectors.

We publish unique content and produce live and online events related to each of the fields we cover. In addition to our website, our email distribution reaches up to 200,000 subscribers. CommPro.biz content is also distributed to millions of potential readers through news apps, including Apple News, News360 and Feedly. Each month, we produce webinars and/or live events covering an array of corporate communications-related topics. For a listing of archived and upcoming events, please visit our Events/Webinars page.

Our Editorial Guidelines

CommPRO welcomes topics that are relevant to communications and the business world. The industry sectors and topics we cover include:

- Public relations
- Marketing
- Social media marketing
- Corporate communications
- Blockchain
- Cryptocurrency
- Investor relations
- Financial communications
- Crisis communications

We welcome content submissions that address any of the aforementioned topics. The content must not be promotional in nature. Please direct your submissions OR proposals to editor@commpro.biz.

- Word count: 500 – 700 words
- Please include a brief author bio
- Please include the author's head shot